

NORTH P. A. CONSIDERS LAND USES

General Approval is Given to Zoning Program

Purposes and advantages of zoning were outlined by Hugh R. Pomeroy, advisor to the San Mateo County Planning Commission, at an informal meeting Wednesday of property owners in North Palo Alto at the Paul Fleisher home, 521 Pope street. About 45 property owners were present.

General approval of zoning was expressed at the North Palo Alto meeting.

Tells Economic Value

Pomeroy spoke briefly on the economic value of planning, pointing out that San Mateo county was the second fastest growing county in the state, and that it probably would show the greatest percentage of growth in the next census. In the light of this hope, Pomeroy stated it was essential that the communities plan for the future in order to save the huge "reconstruction costs" which are at the present time threatening to run such areas as Los Angeles city and county and the City of Detroit and Wayne county into bankruptcy.

These costs, he said, were the inevitable result of inadequate planning.

Procedure Outlined

The zoning procedure was then explained, it being pointed out that after the neighborhood meetings are held, and the commission has worked out a zoning plan in accordance with the wishes of the property owners, two formal public hearings would be held by the planning commission at the court house. A final hearing would then be held before the board of supervisors, thus giving property owners three opportunities to discuss the proposed plan.

Basic studies completed in the district by the planning commission—showing the regional land uses, an economic business district survey, detailed building site occupancy, set-back and side-yard line maps and a detailed existing land use survey showing the use of each lot in the district—were presented to the meeting.

Statistics Presented

These reports showed the following:

- 161 building sites now being occupied in the district, 90 sites of which are located in North Palo Alto proper and 71 sites outside;
- 180 families residing in the district, 108 being in North Palo Alto and 72 outside;
- 703 existing building sites in the district, with 238 in North Palo Alto, 368 in Menlo Park, 61 in Alamo, and 36 in Middlefield Park;
- 1103 ultimate building sites to be made available by subdividing existing acreage into 50 by 120 foot lots, creating 400 more than the 703 existing building sites.

The highlighting effect of zoning for business use more than an economically justifiable area was pointed out and in the following discussion the property owners present requested the commission to proceed with a detailed zoning plan to adequately protect their property.

The dinner will take place at 6:30, next Wednesday night, and the four service clubs—Exchange, Yomeans, Kiwanis and Lions—are to attend. It is planned to make the meeting an inspirational one, devoid of dry statistics, but similar to a typical service club affair. The public is invited, especially business and professional men of the community.

Otis M. Carrington, head of the vocal music department at Sequoia high school, will lead the singing. Dr. W. B. Langston, president of the chamber, will preside. The chamber of commerce officers for the new year are to be elected.

County Group Is To Study School Costs

SAN MATEO, Dec. 21.—The San Mateo county study committee on school problems had been formed here today to seek a revision of "fixed charges" in school costs at the next session of the legislature.

Sam D. Merk of Burlingame was elected as chairman of the group. Formation follows a talk on the subject of school costs by Dr. Elmer Staffelsbach of the San Jose State Teachers College faculty.

S. F. Mechanic to Face Charge of Reckless Driving

William Jackola, 27, of 53 Winfield street, San Francisco, an automobile mechanic, was booked at the county jail over the weekend by Acting Captain Paul Ferrissina of the state traffic bureau here on a charge of reckless driving. No accident was involved.

The arrest was made in Burlingame and Jackola secured his release from the county jail here on $500 bail. He will appear before Justice of the Peace Percy Jackson, San Mateo.

Plant to Add Two New Units, Report

It was rumored yesterday that the Portland Cement Company here is to add two units to its plant in order to be in a position to supply its product to the two big bridges at San Francisco. The concern is to furnish a large part of the cement to be used in the two spans. Over a million dollars are to be spent in making this improvement. Employment of hundreds of men on the project will bring a small boom to Redwood City.

It is said that at least a portion of the steel to be used on the bridges is to be manufactured at the mills in South San Francisco.

San Mateo county should enjoy a large share of prosperity during the coming year.

$70,000.00 TO BE COST OF THEATRE

Site at Montgomery, California Streets Is Selected

Confirming recent reports in local papers of a new theatre and store building to be constructed in Redwood City at the southwest corner of California and Montgomery streets, a deed conveying title to the property was on file in Redwood City today.

Phil A. Freese is the purchaser and Kernan Robson the seller of the downtown parcel.

Work on the new theatre and store building is to begin in two weeks, it is announced. Opening of the new theatre is anticipated for March 1, 1933.

Of Steel Construction

The new building will be of steel and concrete construction. William A. Garren of San Francisco, and S. Charles Lee of Los Angeles are associated as architects.

Lee is considered one of the outstanding theatre architects in the country and has to his credit the designing of the beautiful Los Angeles Theatre Building in Los Angeles, which has been declared by critics to be the finest type of modernistic theatre design in America.

In addition, Lee has designed the Fox Theatre at Phoenix, the Baywood Theatre in San Mateo, the Wilshire and Studio Theatres in Los Angeles, and many others.

Shows Faith in City

The theatre will be the last word in comfort and design. Ample space between aisles and wide, comfortable seats will be featured. Many innovations not heretofore used in this part of the country will be installed.

Mr. Freese's faith in Redwood City is shown to the extent of investing $70,000 in land, building and equipment. It is his intention to make Redwood City his permanent home and the headquarters for the operation of his theatres in California.

J. Leslie Jacobs, theatre broker, of San Francisco, negotiated the transaction.

The deed is on file with County Recorder T. C. Rice in Redwood City.

Grand Jurors Told of City Funds Laxity

How the city of San Bruno apparently lost a considerable sum of money over a long period of time by failure of officials to promptly and properly bank water and tax receipts was recited by Mayor Edward J. Maguire before the San Mateo county Grand Jury here today.

The mayor is asserted to have told the grand jury that at one time as much as $38,000 in taxes were kept within the city's vaults for a considerable period without being banked.

Mayor Maguire is understood to have told the jury that the city actually faced no shortages in its accounts at any time.

Among those present outside the grand jury chamber doors during the morning to await their turn to testify before the grand jury were City Councilman William Maurer, City Clerk Emil Bohm; John Grieder, a certified public accountant of San Francisco; City Councilman William Farmer; Harold Magnuson, one of whose checks are reported to have been among those not promptly deposited, and E. C. Lawrence, manager of the San Bruno branch of the Bank of America.

These persons had been cited by the grand jury in subpoenas issued by District Attorney Edmund Scott. Will H. Girvin, shorthand reporter, was also present in the grand jury chambers.

Mother's Estate to be Shared Equally

Eugene A. Urban, 304 Bradford street, this city, and his brother, Emil C. Urban, 28 Adair street, San Francisco, will divide the $10,000 estate of their mother, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Seibert, equally between themselves.

The two sons are named co-executors in Mrs. Seibert's will. It was written on May 18, 1928. Mrs. Seibert, who lived here for 25 years, died at the age of 76 on November 23.

Attorney Daniel E. Sullivan filed the will with County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman.

COAST ROAD IS ORDERED IMPROVED

Supervisors to Spend $6,000 for Labor On Project

Improvement of the coast highway from Tunitas Creek to Montara, in the Half Moon Bay vicinity, was approved by the board of supervisors Monday. The project will cost $6,000.

The work was recommended to the board by the projects committee of the San Mateo County Citizens Relief Bonds Committee.

Another project approved was that of improving Humboldt, Sierra and other streets in Brisbane.

The board set a special meeting for Saturday so that checks may be paid to the unemployed before Christmas.

District Attorney Edmund Scott was asked to render an opinion to the board as to whether it will be necessary to take out insurance to cover the workers given county jobs under the relief bonds.

This will cost about $14,000, and the board, especially Supervisor T. L. Hickey, believed the amount of liability in the event of an accident would not be that great.

Infant Hurt As Car Leaps Over Sidewalk

SAN BRUNO, Dec. 22.—A two-year-old girl was injured as the result of a freak automobile accident here late yesterday when one of two automobiles involved in a collision on El Camino Real jumped the curb and crashed into a baby buggy.

The baby, Barbara Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones, 124 Poplar avenue, incurred lacerations of the head and was taken to the Community Hospital at Bensford for observation by Dr. F. Holmes Smith.

The mishap occurred when cars driven by C. Weitzel, 167 Poplar avenue, and W. Duerner, 26 Edinburg street, San Francisco, collided at the intersection of the highway and Santa Lucia avenue in Lomita Park. Weitzel's machine was forced onto the sidewalk and hit the baby carriage.

They were waiting to cross the highway when the car bore down upon them, Mr. Bryant told police.

STUDENTS FILL CHRISTMAS GIFT BOXES

Students of the Redwood City schools are making many families of the community happy this holiday season with gift boxes of food for Christmas dinners and some toys and articles of clothing for the children. Here are members of the Junior Red Cross of Sequoia Union High School at work filling a box. They are, left to right, Alice Wilson, Eleanor Fisher, Mary Beeler, Rosie Jost, and, below, Lea Knapp. The high school is supplying 60 boxes, and the elementary schools likewise have exceeded their quota.

Yule Baskets From Schools Cheer Homes

Homes of 100 families of the community are being provided with real Christmas dinners this year as the result of the endeavors of high school and elementary school students in filling gift baskets of food donated by pupils and teachers during the past week.

Under the auspices of the Junior Red Cross of Sequoia Union High School, boxes of food and in some instances toys and clothing for children have been collected and distributed to 60 families. Miss Angelina Burns was in general charge of the plan, which was carried out through the activity rooms of the high school. Members of the high school, boys' service club, delivered the boxes Wednesday.

All of the elementary schools have contributed canned goods and other staples to make up 25 boxes, which will be distributed today. Miss Cora Clute, public school nurse, and Miss Rosemond Boulware, directing the work, for which central headquarters have been established at the McKinley intermediate school. All of the teachers have made donations to complete a full list of supplies in each box, and 110 pounds of roasts will go into the baskets. Other teachers on the committee are Miss Pearl Beer, Miss Bessie Payne and Mrs. Dorothy Higgins.

McKINLEY EXCEEDS QUOTA

Exceeding their quota of baskets to be filled for Christmas, the children of McKinley school during the past week have brought the following supplies for needy families of Redwood City: 67 cans and jars of fruit, 43 cans of beans, 111 cans of vegetables, 63 cans of milk, 19 packages of cereal, 34 cans of soup, 11 packages of dried beans, 66 jars of homemade jams and jellies, 13 packages of macaroni, 15 packages of rice, 24 cans of sea food, 15 pounds of sugar, 30 pounds of flour, 29 cans of miscellaneous goods, 2 lug boxes of potatoes, and 1 crate of oranges for the school.

These provisions will be supplemented with meats and fresh vegetables to be purchased by the teachers of the school.

Radiotelephone Now Stretches To 36 Nations

As Santa Claus sets up headquarters here this Christmas, he finds his telephone orders for gifts coming from youngsters on one more continent, seven more ships at sea, in seven more countries and two more island groups than last Christmas.

In the past year telephone service has been extended to all these new points, so that now any telephone served by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. may be coupled by radiotelephone to five continents, 36 countries, principalities and colonies, seven island groups, and fourteen ships at sea.

The new radiotelephone links are those between the United States and Asia, Colombia, Egypt, Peru, Portugal, Siam, South Africa and Venezuela, the Baleric and the Bahama Islands, and the liners Albert Ballin, Bremen, Europa, Deutschland, Hamburg, Rex, and Columbus.

Christmas Day, 1931, saw a record number of calls, 87, between Hawaii and North America, when transpacific radiotelephone service was but two days old.

City's Liquor Law Again to Be Effective

Redwood City's own "little Wright act" is now effective, having merely been suspended when the Wright Act was passed and being restored to full status by the repeal of the state measure on November 8.

This was the opinion expressed today by Attorney General U. S. Webb to District Attorney Edmund Scott. The opinion is a blanket one covering the whole state.

The Redwood City liquor enforcement act, known as Ordinance No. 221, provides for a fine of $300 and (or) a 90-day jail sentence. It was amended in its present form on December 5, 1921, after being passed by the council as Ordinance No. 216 on August 1, 1921.

The city ordinance fell into disarray about the time the Wright act was passed, Police Chief C. L. Collins explains, because the state law provided for a $500 instead of a $300 fine, bringing additional revenue in each case.

13TH CITY IS FORMED IN COUNTY

Councilmen Pledge to Favor Dog Racing Are Elected

Voting to incorporate itself as the 13th San Mateo county city and electing four councilmen reported pledged to dog racing, the new Town of Bayshore came into existence Tuesday.

Actually, there will be no Town of Bayshore until the legislature ratifies the vote next month. But already the first business of the new city, after it selects a mayor and organizes, has been set for the granting of a license to operate a dog track.

This was the sole purpose of incorporation, it was freely admitted. The vote Tuesday was 187 to 86.

Of the five city councilmen elected, four are pledged to carry out the program of the race track promoters. They are Robert Hatch, Joseph Franzen, Herbert A. Ford, and Ernest A. Durbin.

John P. Larsen, the fifth councilman, is vice president of the Bayshore Voters' League, which opposed incorporation.

Bayshore will be the smallest incorporated city in the county, with an area of about 30 lots, and a population of 800, including children.

R. H. Mitchell, president of the voters' league, announced that a fight would be waged before the new council to avert the granting of a permit, if possible.

Plans for a $100,000 dog racing park, the "finest in the West," were revealed a few days ago by Albert Mansfield, Redwood City attorney, who is one of the directors of the Belmont track. The latter track, it is said, will be closed down when the Bayshore track opens.

Pedestrian Is Hit by Auto, Badly Injured

A Chinese pedestrian was struck and severely injured by an automobile driven by Guadenzio Ardrosia, 3010 Park on Saturday. The Chinese, On You, also known as Tui Kui, 422 Maple street, was taken to the Community Hospital, San Mateo, after first aid treatment at the emergency hospital here. He was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull.

Ardrosia was driving north on Main street when the mishap occurred. R. E. Stevens and Stanley Nordson, 1455 Gordon street, picked up the injured Chinese and brought him to the emergency hospital, where he was given treatment by Dr. Harry Mason and Robert Monteith. He was then transferred to the Community Hospital.

5 R. C. Men On New Dog Track Board

A copy of the articles of incorporation of the San Mateo Greyhound Breeders' Association, believed to have been the purpose of operating a new dog track at Bayshore, was filed with County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman today by Attorney Albert Mansfield of Redwood City.

Directors, all of Redwood City, are given as follows: Carl Eder, Stack Hermosillo, Hugh E. McArthur Jr., Joseph A. Roza and R. B. Conover.

The corporation has a capital stock of $100,000 divided into 1000 shares of a par value of $100 each. Five hundred dollars of the stock is subscribed.

Meanwhile, R. H. Mitchell, president of the Bayshore Voters' League, prepared to attack the incorporation of Bayshore as illegal, and if this move is not successful, Mitchell said he would seek to avert the award of a permit for the dog track.

Attorney Mansfield said the election was regular in every way and declared the voters of the district freely expressed their wishes without being coerced in any manner as charged by Mitchell.

Let's Try Forgetting Wage Cuts

More furore, more taxpayers' associations, more recommendations that wages be cut—and some smaller property owners who pay a small tax are taking the matter to heart. It is true that even a small tax nowadays is somewhat hard to dig up, but when we take into consideration the economic factors involved, we can hardly see that there is going to be any betterment.

For instance, let's take a look at one small taxpayer who in reality is paying a tax upon something he owes for rather than on something he owns. He is paying for his home, which cost $5000 to build, and upon which he still owes $3000. When he built the house it was worth the full $5000, for the dollar was worth 100 cents. Now, with the dollar so much harder to get and its buying power now perhaps fifty per cent greater, in order to pay the balance due on his home he must pay $4500 instead of the $3000. Figure that one out.

Another fellow in a nearby town was smart. He bought a home for $6000 a few years ago, and paid only a few hundred dollars down upon it. Along came the depression, property values went down, and he found his home was marketable at little more than half what the original price was. So he handed the key to the seller, and took advantage of the times by purchasing a far better home for $3000, again paying only a small amount down. He is now paying installments upon the present value of the dollar, and as prices go up again with the return of normal times, he will reap the reward.

The thing, then, is how to get prices up and keep them up. It can't possibly be done by cutting wages. Without a high standard of wages, the whole flock of commodities goes down, to the end that the producer is the first to suffer. By keeping up wages, and, if necessary, reducing the hours of labor in order that more people might be employed, is the only real way prosperity can be returned.

The man who forces down the wages of his employees unnecessarily, is doing a harm not only to himself, but to the taxpayers as well. He is helping to cut down values. He is helping to reduce his own profits, or put himself more deeply into the "red."

The trouble with us in that we always look upon the dollar as one hundred cents, and when things get a little depressed we declare things are cheaper and living conditions cheaper. Immediately comes the yelp for wholesale cuts in wages—the whole cry seeming to be that the employer must continue to make his normal profit even if he has to take that profit out of the pockets of his employees. The consequence is that his trained employees are not contented, and are quietly looking for some change that will get them a little better pay. The employer doesn't stop to think that during the "good times" he wasn't cutting melons with his help. They had to fight for every cent raise in salary they got. Few laborers ever had their employers fatten their pay checks of their own free will. Not because they are employers, but because they are human beings, and the human rarely gives up more for labor than he has to.

Far better for the small taxpayer (and every consumer is a small taxpayer) that he pay a little more now, even when he can barely afford it, than that he help knock down general values—kick the bottom out of his own assets. It looks like we are just getting more and more panicky. We, individually, are placing ourselves in a far more hazardous economic position by trying to save a few pennies in taxes by heeding the howl of some large land owners. Far better for us small fry to keep up the wages of teachers and county office holders as well as others—then work to put our own salaries on a par with them. We want the dollar where it was three years ago. Then we do not have to pay the equivalent of two dollars for every one we borrowed.

Lets forget the depression for a time, if we can, and keep on saving wood. Wherever we can keep wages up, lets do so, even though we have to take a cut ourselves. Lets quit yelping at what the other fellow is getting and try to realize that the more others are getting the better it is going to be for us in the long run.

"Swing to the Right"

The panic passing. The hard times are practically worn out. The depression is fading away. Light is breaking through the clouds. Scraps of the silver lining are clearly in sight. Proof of radical improvement in business, in industry, comes in from every side. It is in the air; it is in the consciousness of men everywhere. The worst is over and prosperity is coming back.

Psychology is a wonderful thing—a tremendous force. When everybody gets into the way of thinking that certain things are to happen, they will happen and that is all there is to it. Just now everybody is making up his mind that the business depression is over, that there is to be a radical change. When that state of mind becomes fixed, prosperity will be back.

Already business men are perking up; timid souls have quit shivering; wage earners are going back on the payrolls. Smokestacks are beginning to belch; wheels are beginning to hum; money is coming out from under the rubbish; hope and courage and determination are reviving.

All that is needed now is for everybody to swing to the right. When the way is dark, the road uncertain, the careful, experienced driver will swing to the right. It is a good rule. It has prevented many a crash. And if it is a good rule in driving, it is a good rule in every other activity in life. If everybody will swing to the right and keep moving, the road will be kept open; there will be no jam, no crash. The natural current of business, industry, commerce, will find its natural channel. The panic will be over, normal prosperity will be an established fact.

Depression is very largely a state of mind. Cut it out and all will be well.

J. G. Garrison, who recently purchased the David Buckley beautiful home on Park Lane, is preparing to move from Los Angeles to occupy the residence by the end of the week. Mr. Garrison is wealthy and his family are social leaders. Mr. Buckley and his interesting family have moved to Palo Alto. Their departure is regretted for they made many friends here. The home was erected many years ago by the late James Logan, who at one time was a prominent San Francisco contractor. In the early days it was one of the show places of that locality.

James Howell will address the people of Menlo Park tonight on the relief question affecting this locality. Every citizen is urged to attend this important meeting.

Tuesday afternoon in attempting to cross the highway at Santa Cruz avenue, J. C. Brown, the retired grocer, was struck by an automobile driven by Clyde Rolling of the veterans' hospital and suffered a double fracture of his left leg. Mr. Brown was removed to the Palo Alto Hospital. He is reported to be getting along nicely. It will be some time before he will be able to be taken to his home at Santa Cruz avenue and Brattle street.

The Airway Gold Crushing Mill, owned and invented by a local group of citizens, will be taken to the mine of James Davis in Siskiyou county after the first of the year for actual use. The machine, it is said, will revolutionize the quartz mining industry of the state. The owners believe they have a fortune in the new invention.

A group of citizens and property owners of North Palo Alto met with Hugh Pomeroy, employed by the county planning commission Wednesday evening. The matter of zoning that section was discussed at some length. Other meetings are to be held. It was brought out at the gathering by Mr. Pomeroy that Willow road would soon be a state highway. Engineers, he said, were working on the proposition and that the state highway commission was favorable to the plan. He also asserted that the five miles of road to be constructed by the state to the Alpine road was the first unit to be built. Highway certain the highway would be constructed as certain legislation was to be adopted by the next legislature permitting the commission to construct more new roads and that the northern portion of the state's allotment would be 3,000 miles. The proposed road would make a circuit from San Francisco to Oakland over the Dumbarton bridge.

CHILD BORN TO MR. AND MRS. CORNYN

MARE ISLAND ALTAR IS SCENE OF WEDDING CEREMONY OF R. C. GIRL

Announcements have been received from Mr. and Mrs. William Emanuel Neilson of Clinton street, marriage of their daughter, Wilhelmina Carroll, to Mr. Lester Harvey Smith on November 29 at St. Peter's Chapel, Mare Island.

The ceremony was performed at high noon by Chaplain Day of the U. S. Navy before the altar, which has a large American eagle sitting on a pedestal at one side. In the background, behind the massive brass railings which set off the altar, stood a long row of lighted candles. The huge urns on both sides of the steps were filled with large white chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a form-fitting gown of hyacinth blue crepe and a small metallic hat. Her other accessories were of grey. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley. The bride is well known on the peninsula, both socially and fraternally, being a member of the Eastern Stars, White Shrine and Amaranth and holding offices in the latter two organizations. She is also well known in the south—the home of her ancestors. Her great grandfather, Harrison Haggeman, was one of the early lawmakers of Georgia. She dates her political ancestors back to one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and is also related to ex-President Harrison and ex-Governor McDaniel of Georgia.

The bridegroom also comes from an old southern family of North Carolina, where his ancestors have lived for many generations. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Elizabethtown, N. C. His mother was Miss Melvin of the widely known Melvin plantation, which consists of White Lake and Melvin Beach.

The news of the wedding comes as a surprise to the friends of both the bride and bridegroom, who were expected to marry later in San Francisco.

Following a two-months' honeymoon on the Pacific coast, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will go East to make their home.

Miss Casey is to be guest of honor at a dinner which the Misses Molly and Jean Fay will give at their Woodside home the following Friday, December 30. Later in the evening, Miss Casey will make her debut at a dance which her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Harold Casey, will give at the San Francisco Golf Club.

On Christmas afternoon, Mrs. James Flood will hold open house at her San Francisco home. For the following evening, the 28th, Mr. and Mrs. Heber V. Tilden are arranging a dinner party to take place at their Menlo Park home. Miss Barbara Sutro will entertain at dinner before the St. Patrick's Guild benefit ball on the 29th. Her guests of honor will be Miss Ines Mejia and her fiancé, Peter Folger. James Flood is also to give a dinner that evening.

VEGETABLE AND MEAT PROTEINS

The protein foods are the tissue builders, and are probably the most important of the three food principles, proteins, fats, and carbohydrates. However, in answer to the question: Which of fats, carbohydrates, and proteins is most important? An apt answer would be: Which is the most important leg of a three-legged stool?

During the processes of metabolism of the body the tissues are destroyed, and these must be rebuilt and the damaged tissues repaired. The only food principle that will accomplish this is the protein. A physiologic law reads, "Nothing but proteins will replace used-up proteins of the body." The tissues of the body are proteins themselves and, therefore, require proteins in the food for their maintenance. Since neither the fats nor the carbohydrates will do the work of the protein, and further, since the protein will to a degree carry out the work of the fats and carbohydrates in the body it may logically be said that the protein is the most important leg of the three-legged stool.

These protein elements, which are found in all meats, peas, beans, lentils, etc. should be included in everyone's diet. The most common fault committed by the vegetarian is omission of the protein-holding vegetables. Deficiency of these foods lowers the vitality resistance of the body, and though the person may become fat he will be "poor" of flesh.

It is generally conceded by the physiologists that the meat protein is more valuable than that found in vegetables. The protein of meat is more easily digested and absorbed than the vegetable protein. The cellulose covering of the vegetable proteins is highly indigestible, and its presence in large quantities retards digestive powers and impairs the activity of the entire digestive mechanism, though in moderate amounts it is undoubtedly beneficial, as it aids the peristaltic movements of the intestines.

If you must "go" vegetarian, be sure to include in your diet list the protein-holding vegetables and nuts so that repair and reconstruction of tissues may be maintained.

Redwood City 25 Years Ago

Carney Bros., railroad contractors with headquarters here, completed the Dumbarton cut-off of the Southern Pacific this week. The cut-off extends from Niles to Redwood City, and is ready for the ties and rails. The Carney Bros. will shut down for the winter, with the result that 100 men will be out of work.

Mrs. Lizzie Tyson of Niles has been visiting friends here for a couple of days. Mrs. Tyson was born here and her first husband was Sheriff George Green, whose tragic death by drowning cast a gloom over the entire county. It has been 25 years since Mrs. Tyson was here, and the many changes surprise her.

LET GAS HEAT CHANGE
THE "COLD PEAK" TO
"COMFORT ZONE"

ENJOY the carefree comfort of Controlled Gas Heat—especially in these months of "Cold Peak" weather. That is what you and your family can do when gas heating equipment replaces an old fashioned hand-fired heating plant.

Perhaps sentiment for the home you have lived in for years makes it hard for you to make a change. But old homes are so often cold homes. You cannot keep warm on sentiment, and family comfort and family health are most important as the years go on.

It is not necessary to make any important changes in your home to replace its old fashioned and hand-fired heating equipment. Keep the old memories but gain a new sense of home comfort by installing a gas heating plant that will keep an even temperature throughout the house. There is no better time than the coming months of "Cold Peak" weather to make this change. You can modernize your heating plant to spread the cost over a long period of time. Two Games Set By Eagle Five; Ramblers Win 'Y' Cage Play

Tuesday's scheduled Peninsula Basketball League contest with the Campbell Florists, postponed at their request, has been set by the Redwood City Eagles for a week from Friday night, it was announced this morning by Manager Al Bechet.

The game will decide whether or not the Eagles clinch the championship of the first half, and victory is necessary because the once-defeated Burlingame Ramblers are just one step behind the Eagles as a result of their 38 to 28 victory over South San Francisco last night in a league contest. The Ramblers indicated plenty of power in stepping out to lead the South City cagers 22 to 12 at half time, while the Eagles were pressed in beating the same by two points.

The Redwood City team will be idle for the rest of this week, but next Wednesday they will engage the Matson Navigators of San Francisco before taking on Campbell two days later.

Garbage Disposal Notices Sent Out By City Manager

Postcard notices relating to garbage disposal have been sent out by City Manager E. A. Rolison, following the council's passage of Ordinance No. 339, which becomes effective January 1.

"The occupant of every residence or place where garbage is created must conform to the terms of the ordinance," says the notice. "In the event you do not now have garbage service, you are requested to either call at the city hall and arrange for same, or notify the health officer by telephone at Redwood 1500 for proper instructions."

RAMBLINGS FROM THE SIDE-WALK

"Come in, Old Timer—what do you know that makes you look like the wise old fox?"

"Huh? You? I know you, I told you all I know and you printed it, you'd leave town so fast you'd kick up half the county's real estate and scorch the soles of both feet. But there looks like there is enough going on here without stepping on any more corns."

"You taxpayers vs. tax-eaters' controversy has come up again—this time right smack from the head of the school department, and if something don't happen pretty quick to take the load off the reserved seat class, there might be a lot of teachers and county officials who will be using gravel to dunk their biscuits instead of slathering on the butter."

"Maybe it's only a little more talk, Old Timer. You know that very soon there has to be a little salt thrown to the taxpayers."

"That's what it may be now, but everybody who can bust into print is throwing some foul bouquets at the school marm and the county officials. In fact they mostly seem to be going into a huddle over the teachers. It must be a great game—even as it was a few years back when the teacher was lucky to get $30 a month with saw-belly and beans thrown in. Seems like everybody who thinks that education is a lot of humbug that just makes bum business out of good plowboys, is out with a jack-knife to pare down the taxes on the teachers."

"Seems to me, Old Timer, that there was something or other on the ballot at the last election that had something to do with relieving the taxpayers of a considerable burden of the taxes for school purposes."

"Yes—and they showed it under. It might not have been much, but at least it was a start toward putting the schools off on the state and then taxing a few things like half-soles and dog-biscuits to pay for taking a few bats out of Young America's belts. Why that amendment was given the Bronx cheer is more than I can tell, especially what it looked like it would skim off a quarter section of the taxes. We vote for things that look fine when we are buzzing along on all four cylinders but when a little pinch comes along there is a wail that would bring tears to the eyes of a bronze puppy."

"What else is there of general interest, Old Timer?"

"Well, the new congressman, John McGrath, wishes the lame-duck congress was floating around in the middle of the Atlantic."

"He don't like the idea of waiting until the first part of March to get busy. Is that it, Old Timer?"

"I should say not. He would almost give his chances for a free ride over the Golden Road in order to get back to Washington where the boys who want to carry on for the federal government during the time of stress could only reach his secretary by letter. He is being fazed and dined until his stomach thinks he has taken on a garbage contract. He hasn't had a chance to get acquainted with his family since election. He has had to do more talking to stall the office hunters than he did to get votes. If he has to keep on much longer they'll have to take him to Washington on a stretcher."

Redwood City Quintets Win 'Y' Cage Play

Two Redwood City basketball teams, the Roosevelt Pioneers' unlimbited in the 15-17 year class and the Iroquois Friendly Indians 85-pound quintet, won qualifying honors Saturday in the annual Young Men's Christian Association basketball tournament at Palo Alto, and will represent the peninsula area in the sectional play-off in San Francisco during the Christmas holidays.

Redwood City had the largest number of teams entered in the tournament, which was held in the Palo Alto High School gymnasium. Burlingame, Palo Alto and South San Francisco also placed teams in the finals.

Andrew Spinas, M. W. Tackitt, Haines Spellenberg and Roy A. Hoberger were the local "Y" leaders in charge of the games.

Death Follows Threat With Secret Vial Of Explosive

The younger Walker was sentenced to San Quentin by Judge George H. Buck in Redwood City January 20, 1929, after pleading guilty to charges of robbing the safe of the United States Laundry Co. in San Francisco of $90 and breaking into a safe at Belmont, Menlo Park, Colma and San Altos. His sentence was fixed at 15 years by the prison board. At Palo Alto it was denied that Walker was a former Stanford University student. His family moved to Palo Alto for some time and the youth attended high school here.

Three Stanford University freshmen were nabbed by Redwood City police officers Saturday night for attempted theft of two of the city's new Christmas trees and spent hours in jail for their prank.

The attempted theft took place Winslow and Hamilton streets. The trees are part of the city's holiday decorations. They were bought from the High Sierra by Gordon (Oski) Slade, Brooklyn major league baseball player.

The failure of many recipients Christmas Seals to return their money implies they are not aware of the necessity of keeping up the fight we are making against tuberculosis," said Mrs. Harry Dana, president of the San Mateo Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a statement issued this morning in commenting on the slow returns from the seal drive.

There can be no let-down in the fight against tuberculosis. Unless we have an able defense, the people of California will be helpless before this disease. The money raised from the seal sale has been used to decrease materially the death rate from tuberculosis. It has been proven that the disease is preventable and curable. We must have the support of the public in this seal sale.

Many clinics, preventoria, sanatoria and other methods of combating the disease are furnished through the proceeds of this sale throughout the country. In San Diego county we maintain the Mateo Preventorium with the proceeds of this sale."

The only articles of export were hides and tallow, the value of the hides being one dollar and a half in cash and two in goods, and of the tallow, three cents a pound in winter, and two cents in summer. For three dollars, and a fat steer delivered in the Pueblo at an Jose brought three dollars and a half. It was considered neither trespass or larceny to kill beef, use the flesh, and hang the hide and tallow on a tree, so that the owner could find them, they could be found by the owner.
